Shades Take Shape In Westboro

Buildings 14A and 14B began getting a new look this week as shades were being installed in windows throughout the two buildings. The shades will serve two purposes. First, they will help employees in areas next to windows cut out the sun's rays during days when bright sunlight might hinder work operations.

Secondly, they will help to cut the amount of light being emitted from the buildings. Westboro residents in the surrounding neighborhoods have requested that the company install shades since the lights from Data General can be disturbing during the evening hours, especially during the fall and winter months.

As a result, all employees with offices next to windows should make sure to close the shades each evening before departing for home.

Installation of the shades should be completed by next Friday.

of Corporate Materials; Len McGlynn, manager of Construction Services; and Ben Dalton, director of International Manufacturing Operations. Ben is responsible for operations at Manufacturing plants in the Philippines, Thailand, Singapore, the regional Manufacturing office in Singapore, and the European Distribution Center in Schwalbach, West Germany.

Lee joined Data General in 1981 as director of Materials and Manufacturing Services. In 1983, he became vice president of that organization. Lee came to Data General following a 23-year career at IBM, where he held a series of management positions in production control, purchasing, distribution, materials and management information systems. Lee holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from Winona State College.

Reorganizations Take Place In SDD, Manufacturing

Organizational realignments have taken place within the Information Systems Group (ISG), Communications Systems Group (CSG) and Manufacturing.

- Mass Storage Engineering, based in Durham, N.H., is now part of the Systems Development Division (SDD).
- Central Engineering, formerly part of CSG, will also move into SDD, with the exception of the Information Management department.
- Information Management moves into Manufacturing's Advanced Manufacturing Engineering and Technology organization.

The purpose of the realignment is to bring together within ISG and Manufacturing key participants involved in the development and manufacture of Information Systems products, maximizing the divisions' abilities to design and bring to market the next generation of computer-systems solutions.

Mass Storage Engineering is managed by Director Joe Godbout, who had been temporarily reporting to Bob Miller, senior vice president for ISG.

Henning Assumes Additional Responsibilities

Lee Henning has been named vice president for International Manufacturing and Corporate Material Services, assuming responsibility for International Manufacturing Operations in addition to his current responsibilities for Materials and Manufacturing Services. He reports to Frank Silkman, senior vice president for Manufacturing.

Howard Haythornthwaite, formerly vice president of International Manufacturing Operations, has resigned from Data General to pursue other business interests.

Reporting to Lee are: John Kavazanjian, director of Corporate Purchasing; Jim Edelman, director of Corporate Order Administration; Bruce Neff, director

The Central Engineering groups moving into SDD are: Central Design Engineering, managed by Ed Fortini, and CAD Systems, led by acting manager Alec Karys.

Joe, Ed and Alec will report to SDD Vice President Tom West.

Information Management, managed by Fred DeWolfe, will report to Tracey Zellmann, director of Advanced Manufacturing Engineering and Technology.

Peter Hawtrey, former director of Central Engineering, will continue to report to CSG Senior Vice President Colin Crook, as director of Business Planning.

Data General Breaks Ground In Fountain

Data General this week broke ground for construction of a 320,000-square-foot Product Repair Center in Fountain, Colorado. The building is expected to be completed by March 1987. Total cost of the project will be approximately $10-$12 million.

The completed facility will accommodate product repair activities now taking place in both Fountain and in Milford. About 500 Data General employees now occupying leased space in Fountain will relocate to the new facility upon completion. Additional new employees are expected to be hired as business conditions permit.

Speaking at the ground-breaking ceremony, Tony Nicoletti, Data General's Vice President for Field Engineering Support Services, said, "We are not strangers to either Fountain or the state of Colorado. Since 1981, when we first opened a Product Repair Center in this area, we have come to know many of the people who make up this vital community and this vibrant state. We also have been impressed by the healthy business climate, one that has been strongly shaped and carefully maintained by Governor Richard Lamm."

At the ceremony, Governor Lamm, Fountain Mayor George Rice III and Data General executives planted two trees -- one a Red Maple tree native to Massachusetts where Data General is headquartered, the other a Cottonwood tree native to Colorado,-- to symbolize the company's growth in Fountain.

Commission CEO Hotline

The Commission Accounting department in Manchester has established a "CEO Hotline," providing a convenient and timely way to communicate with the department through the CEO comprehensive electronic office system.

All commission questions and comments now should be sent directly to the Commission Accounting department by mailing messages or documents to: COMMISSIONS:FIN7. In most cases, employees will receive a response that same day.

Westboro

Participants Needed For Human Factors Testing

The Human Factors Engineering department within Product Design Engineering at Westboro is seeking volunteers to participate in evaluations of software and hardware products.

Volunteers will be informed of upcoming product usability evaluations as well as research studies on human-computer interactions and will be given the opportunity to participate.

Employees interested in volunteering or obtaining more information should contact Teresa Forster at extension 6739 or John Martin at extension 6836 in Westboro, or through CEO at HUMAN_FACTORS:ABACUS.

People

In Human Resources...

Dick Gaucher has been named Corporate Employee Relations manager, reporting to Guy Carter, director of Human Resources Operations. Dick succeeds Tom Gately who recently was named director of North American Manufacturing Human Resources.

As an attorney, Dick will serve as Employee Relations counsel in addition to being responsible for the Equal Opportunity/ Affirmative Action and the Corporate Medical departments. Reporting to Dick are: Mike Albert, manager of Equal Opportunity Programs, and Nancy Powers, head nurse.

Dick came to Data General from the Howard Johnson Company, where he worked as Corporate Labor counsel for the past 10 years. Prior to that, he held legal and legislative positions with several Washington-based associations. Dick received his law degree from Georgetown University and a bachelor's degree in economics from Saint Anselm College.

PRIDE Day Is October 1

October 1 is PRIDE Day at Westboro. At that time, Westboro employees involved in the PRIDE Program, People Really Involved In Developing Excellence, will join together for a day of workshops, lectures and refreshments that will enlighten others on what PRIDE is all about.

Speakers will discuss Data General's business, its products, and customers' view of the company.

Workshops will be held at 10:30 a.m. and at 2:30 p.m. To sign up for any of the workshops, complete the form which follows the agenda and send it to Debbie Hixson at Mail Stop D227 in Westboro, CEO Address: HIXSON D:WEBO02.

Employees with permission of their supervisors or managers are welcome to attend. The following is a schedule of events.

PRIDE Day - October 1
8:30 a.m.-10:30 a.m.	Coffee/tea and donuts/muffins served in the large MTI classroom at Mail Stop C223. Also at this time, fiscal year 1987 PRIDE Calendars, as well as other PRIDE items, will be available.	2:30 p.m. - 4 p.m. MTI Room B
10:30 a.m. - noon MTI Room C	Workshop # 1: Intro To Bi-Polar - John Thompson, Manager, PRIDE Administration. This workshop is an introduction to the Bi-Polar theory of personality, and will provide some possibilities for enhancing creativity and productivity while interfacing with others. The basic premises of Bi-Polar will be explained and participants will be given the opportunity to focus in general terms on six different positive strengths that combine to make lives exciting and creative.	2:30 p.m. - 4 p.m. Large MTI Room C
10:30 a.m. - noon MTI Room B	Workshop # 2: Effective Meetings - Anita Cederholm, Westboro PRIDE facilitator. Through group discussion and the video, "Meetings Bloody Meetings" with John Cleese, the elements necessary for an effective meeting will be explored. Participants will leave the workshop with a better understanding of how to prepare for meetings, conduct them and follow up.	2:30 p.m. - 4 p.m. Gst Markt #10
1 p.m. - 2:30 p.m.	PRIDE cake will be served with refreshments in large MTI room.
1 p.m. - 2 p.m.	Enjoy speakers who will talk about Data General and the business today, its products, how customers view the company, and employees' involvement in the business.
		Workshop # 3: Perception - Joanne Spinale, MOD Specialist. This workshop will enable participants to: define perception, target psychological and sociological influences on perception, identify common perceptual screens, specify how perception is a potential communication barrier on and off the job, and experience perceptual exercises.
		Workshop # 4: Time Management - John Thompson This will be a fast-paced participative workshop where people will experience some trends as to how they manage time. Other possibilities of better managing time will be explored and the relationship between time and stress will be developed. Participants will leave the seminar with some new tools to be used as possibilities for better and less stressful time management both in the workplace and outside of work.
		Workshop # 5: Self Change - Anita Cederholm. Self-change requires work and effort on the part of each individual. This workshop focuses on how individuals can change behaviors or habits if they want to. At the conclusion of the workshop, participants will have identified at least one behavioral change desired and will have developed a plan of action for that change.

Price Increases

Effective September 29th, selective price increases will take place at the cafeterias and vending machines at Data General locations throughout New England.

Prices will change for the daily meal specials and increase five to ten cents on some other items such as sandwiches. The prices for small coffee and soda will not increase. Larger-sized drinks and milk, as well as soda from the vending machines, will increase five cents.

New Helicopter Schedule Goes Into Effect

Starting Monday, September 29, the Data General helicopter will operate on a new schedule, adding the Durham facility to its list of Data General New England plants.

To make flight reservations, call Corporate Travel in Westboro at extension 232-HELI (232-4354). Passengers must be at the helipad five minutes before the scheduled departure time for loading and safety briefing. Unless delayed by weather, flights depart precisely on time Monday through Friday.

Passengers desiring to depart or arrive at Southboro may do so by advising the reservationist. As a result, actual departure or arrival time may be a few minutes after the scheduled time shown for Westboro/Southboro.

Benefits

Dental Benefits May Be Extended

Effective Wednesday, October 1, the recently-enacted Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA) will afford employees and their eligible-dependents the opportunity to continue dental benefits beyond the date coverage would ordinarily cease.

The basic provisions of COBRA are:

- If your employment is terminated or your work week is reduced to a level where you are no longer eligible for benefits, you may continue coverage for up to 18 months.
- If you die or become divorced or legally separated, your dependents (spouse and children) may continue coverage for up to 36 months.
- If your dependent child no longer meets the definition of dependent (reaches age 19 or 23, if a full-time student), your dependent child may continue coverage for up to 36 months.

Under the new law, you or your qualified dependent have the responsibility to inform Data General of a divorce, legal separation, or a child losing dependent status. It is Data General's responsibility to contact you or your qualified dependent in the event of your death, termination of employment or reduction in work hours. Your election must be made within 60 days from the date of the event or the date Data General notifies you of your right to continue coverage, whichever comes later.

If you do not elect to continue coverage, your dental benefits will end in accordance with the plan provisions. If you do elect to continue coverage, you will have coverage under the same provisions as the dental program provided to other employees. You will not be required to provide evidence of insurability, but you will be required to pay the entire monthly premium plus a two-percent administration charge.

If your benefit coverage should be affected by any of the above events and you would like to continue your dental coverage, you should contact the Corporate Benefits department in Westboro for enrollment instructions and cost information.
